Registrant Element Application Form

Notice and Disclaimer on the Collection, Processing, and Use of Personal Information

National Central Library ISBN Center (hereafter called “the ISBN Center”) will uphold its legal responsibility to protect the personal information collected by the ISBN Center from ISBN applicants, as stipulated in the Personal Information Protection Law. Applicants are hereby informed of the following:

1. Purpose of Collection

The ISBN Center requires the personal information of publishers applying for an ISBN and creates a record of such to facilitate the processing of ISBN applications.

2. Types of Personal Information Collected

C001 Personal Identity: full name, address, telephone number, email, etc.

C003 Identification from Government Information: national ID number or ARC number (for non-citizens).

3. Whose Information and How Long, Where, and How Personal Information Is Used

(1) How long: personal information collected will be kept for as long as its specific purpose is needed.

(2) Where: information is only used within the territory of the Republic of China, with the exception of when the purpose of collection is related to international matters or events (such as if this information is needed by the International ISBN Agency).

(3) Who and How:

The ISBN Center collects, processes, and uses personal information via electronic or hardcopy documents, including:

- a. The necessary scope that matches with the above mentioned purposes of collection.
- b. Use that conforms to the stipulations outlined in Article 16 of the Personal Information Protection Law.
- c. With the relevant policies of the government to promote the publication, such as the implementation of the Ministry of Culture’s "Regulations for Reducing Business and Entertainment Taxes for Cultural and Arts-related Enterprises".

4. The Rights of Publishers

Publishers can request in writing for the following personal rights to be granted:

(1) Request that one’s personal information be looked up.

(2) Request that one’s personal information be updated.

5. Publishers can choose whether or not to provide their personal information. If they choose to not provide their personal information, the ISBN Center will be unable to offer services in procuring an ISBN. Should there be errors in the application or falsified information provided, causing civil servants to record false information or to infringe on the rights of others, legal action will be taken.

6. The ISBN Center retains the right to provide personal and other information as outlined by law or in accordance with requests from government agencies with oversight or judicial agencies.

I have read and agree to the items above.
